Situated in the Historic District of Abingdon (the oldest incorporated town west of the Blue Ridge Mountains), Shepherd's Joy offers an opportunity to experience the rare Victorian charm of an in-town sheep farm. The Queen Anne country style family home was begun in 1892 and has been lovingly restored with attention to preserving the old with the convenience of the new.

You can escape to Shepherd's Joy to rest, relax and benefit from the pleasures of an unhurried life. Join your fellow guests on the wrap-around porch, stroll the grounds and enjoy the peacefulness of sheep grazing in the pasture.

Inside the Victorian home you will find private areas for reading, writing or having a quiet time. The four high ceiled bedrooms welcome you with warmth and comfort and are tastefully furnished with family antiques, memorabilia, queen beds and private baths. A gourmet breakfast is served in the formal dining room.
